

2009 ICF Annual International Conference

Orlando, Florida, USA | December 2-5, 2009

Global Conversations:

Inspiring individuals, Building communities, Impacting the world

This year's international conference is built on the theme of Global Conversations. Dialogue and intimate exchanges with your peers will be frequent through the copious networking opportunities that will be available. Orlando is the place to be for open and sincere discussion, inspiration and collaboration as we embark on the journey to co-create the future of coaching together!

Top Three Reasons for You to Attend

- 1. Educational opportunities. More than 50 fresh and compelling educational sessions will be offered in seven significant areas of focus related to professional coaching: Coaching & Leadership; Coaching & Organizations; Impact in the World; Mind, Body & Spirit; Coaching & Innovation; Science & Coaching; and Wisdom Circles for Core Competencies. Sessions include timely topics to help survive the current economy and to expand your thoughts around making an impact on society. Attendees will also enjoy three world-class keynote speakers.
- 2. Gain inspiration. You will surely be moved by the experiences of your peers, the stories of this year's presenters and the new products offered by exhibitors. Be moved by the conversations and stories you will co-create while in Orlando.
- 3. Network with colleagues. Broaden your community by meeting face-to-face and learn from an expected 1,200 coaches from around the world. Walk away with a renewed global perspective and a fresh outlook on your profession.
